Adding an unexpected and exciting twist, our chair, Aaron John, embodied the role of Kim Jong Un from the Democratic People's Republic of Korea. He faced many challenging questions while engaging in heated debates, but he answered with confidence, just as the Supreme Leader would.

Day 1 at the DISEC Committee of SM Shetty International School MUN internals involved an amazing display of rivalry and intellectual debate. The conference commenced with the General Speakers' List, where a few delegates delivered compelling opening statements on the pressing agenda: measures to prohibit lethal autonomous weapon systems. Notable contributions came from the delegates of the Russian Federation, Palestine, Spain, and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

IPL

DAY 1:
FRI 12 JUL

MUNspire introduces IPL as a committee for the first time, and calling it a success is an understatement. In this year's IPL committee, each team began with a budget of 90 crore and strategically spent their money to build competitive squads. All teams retained two prime players, ensuring a strong foundation for their lineups.

One of the standout moments was David Miller's acquisition by Delhi Capitals for an impressive 16.5 crore, making him the most expensive buy of the auction. This reflects the keen interest teams have in bolstering their rosters with top talent while managing their budgets effectively.

Overall, the auction showcased a well-balanced approach to team building across the league. Chairs were beyond impressed by the delegates' skill and strategic thinking throughout the conference.

DAY 1

Two blocs formed, presenting competing plans to address the crisis. By 25th August, the committee adjourned to vote on the directives the next day, deciding the fate of Italy's military head. Freeze Date by the End of Committee: 25th August 1939.

This League of Nations committee lives up to its name, giving delegate not more than a second to breathe. Freeze Date: 12th August 1939. In a moderated caucus, France and Poland insisted Germany deserved the Treaty of Versailles, while the USSR noted Germany's reduced debt. The second caucus revealed an unexpected USSR-German alliance. On 20th August, the USSR, Germany, Romania, and Italy announced a joint invasion of Poland, sparking a crisis and heated debates. A night bombing in Danzig on 21st August led to an investigation, with the USA revealing an assassination plot against Italy's military head.

SOCHUM

DAY 1:
FRI 12 JUL

The committee began when our enthusiastic delegate of South Korea raised a motion to start the committee session, which was followed by a GSL consisting of 11 speakers providing their countries' general opinions on the agenda: strengthening ways to eradicate human trafficking in Southeast Asia.

Considering the multifaceted solutions to stop heinous acts of crimes against millions of innocent people, SOCHUM delegates started by turning a bane into a boon by initiating a moderated caucus on the topic: "How can technology be used to prevent human trafficking?" This was followed by numerous valuable inputs from the Western world.

South Korea finds themselves in a pickle, when a Chinese gang leader is found kidnapping their "Crown Jewel" Park Jimin. This sparked aggression in the committee as delegates came up with controversial opinions and speculations. Chairs predict a stormy weather of arguments for Day 2.

12TH JUL,2024

DAY 1

After a fruitful discussion and debate on this topic we ended with the last mod caucus topic left to discuss 'what measures can be taken to protect intangible cultural heritage sites, traditions, and practices during times of conflict, and how can international organizations support post conflict reconstruction efforts'.

The committee started early at 8 AM with a quick ROP session followed by numerous delegates speaking in the GSL. Newer delegates quickly engaged with a variety of questions, demonstrating their understanding and proficiency with points and motions. The committee went silent as the delegate of Iran raised his placard. This was followed by a confident statement: 'I would like to initiate a 1v2 against the delegates of Russia and Afghanistan.' They bravely accepted the challenge and approached the podium, facing their delegates, ready for the debate to commence. Taking turns, delegates began aggressively accusing each other, while the committee enthusiastically banged their tables. Shortly after Committee Session 2 ended, we began the next session with a moderated caucus on the topic of how countries can ensure that databases are regularly updated and accessible to law enforcement agencies.

UNEP

DAY 1:
FRI 12 JUL

The UNEP conference was a success, featuring rigorous debates and collaboration among delegates. Highlights included the General Speakers List, dynamic caucuses, and a 3v3 debate. These sessions facilitated focused discussions, actionable proposals, and draft resolutions to address water scarcity in Africa, showcasing thorough research and persuasive argumentation.

CHPT 1-A

A high level of participation demonstrated a collaborative and dynamic atmosphere in which delegates were dedicated to tackling the challenges at hand. One of the session's highlights was a moderated caucus led by South Africa on the theme "Solutions to Reduce Water Scarcity." During this caucus, delegates presented a variety of remedies, including water desalination, to the pressing issue of water shortage.

CHPT 1-B

Chairing a MUN committee with 6th graders was initially daunting, but we triumphed. The atmosphere was electric as ideas clashed and alliances shifted, creating a dynamic arena where consensus emerged through negotiation and compromise. The debates were intense, showcasing diverse perspectives rooted in deep research and real-world implications.

12TH JUL,2024

DAY 1

Accusations are thrown across, focused on alleged failures in enforcement, suspected involvement in trafficking networks, and the facilitation of smuggling routes. This highlights the complex interplay of national interests and international diplomacy in addressing the synthetic drug epidemic.

The UNODC MUN sessions focused on the critical issue of synthetic drugs, beginning with an introductory speech by Singapore highlighting the urgency and global impact of the problem. Delegates from various countries presented their opening statements, outlining their nations' stances on the synthetic drug crisis and proposing potential solutions. Key issues included the rapid emergence of new psychoactive substances, and the challenges they pose to existing legal frameworks. Several delegates emphasized the importance of international cooperation and information sharing to combat the synthetic drug trade effectively. In the last session, delegates were deeply engaged in heated debates over the production, smuggling routes, and distribution of synthetic drugs.

UNHRC

DAY 1:
FRI 12 JUL

The committee of UNHRC had interesting agendas like Racism in Sports, the effect of racism on children and their education. As the committee went on the, participation increased and the delegates gained confidence in their abilities. There was various data provided by the well-prepared delegates. Delegates presented spellbinding solutions like banning certain racial words and working with school officials to develop campaigns that combat commissions regarding racism.

CHPT 2-A

the main event was a heated 4v4 debate. The first group comprised the USA, Germany, Finland, and Australia, while the second group included Russia, Canada, Portugal, and Sweden. The discussions between both groups was intense, with delegates passionately defending their positions and engaging in a spirited debate. Germany found itself heavily targeted, facing numerous questions and criticisms from the Russian delegate.

CHPT 2-B

The delegate of Denmark reported on the hundreds of racist hate crimes that occur in their own country, along with the severe under-reporting of these hate crimes. Later on, 10 delegates engaged in a fierce debate, talking about the high-profile racial controversies that have happened in other countries including but not limited to police brutality in USA, racist depictions of protesters on Japanese national media and tens of thousands of South Koreans dying in labor camps.

UNSC

12TH JUL,2024

DAY 1

Russia outright denied any alliance with ISIS, while the USA threatened war over any further losses. The day concluded with a fiery exchange between the head of ISIS and the US delegate, leaving the committee in suspense and excitement for Day 2.

Day 1 of the UNSC at MUNspire was nothing short of explosive as the Arctic Circle Crisis took center stage. The session kicked off with a General Speakers List, but it soon became evident that the USA, Russia, the UK, and Sierra Leone were steering the conversation. The temperature dropped further when China proposed creating a border around the Arctic Circle to protect its inhabitants from militarization. This suggestion, however, sent ripples through the committee as the USA, Russia, and the UK raised concerns about potential territorial infringements. The crisis caused chaos when news broke of an ISIS attack on American troops stationed near the Alaskan border in the Arctic. Despite a successful retaliation by US forces, the situation escalated as the head of ISIS, in a bold statement, claimed collaboration with Russia to seize control of the Arctic for resource utilization.

WHO

DAY 1:
FRI 12 JUL

Day 1 at the WHO begins with fast-paced, high energy debates. Followed by 2v2s and a crisis. GSL speeches displayed impressive ranges of speeches from the delegate of Australia giving the much required, statistical speech to the delegate of Ukraine aggressively attacking countries.

Entering committee session two, delegates proposed intricate solutions to the topic "improving mental health for adolescents". MUNspire conferences without a crisis? Impossible! In a sudden it's announced, "DONALD TRUMP'S WIFE SUICIDED BECAUSE OF DEPRESSION!!!" Tensions arise, USA breaks a sweat.

Naturally all delegates feel obligated to attack the delegate of United States of America. Countries like Australia and Ukraine put up a tough competition. While the anticipation of the final verdict is high, students prepare to solve the agenda in Day 2.

Ethan Fernandes, Samanvi Yabaluri

A plethora of guest delegates and crises were introduced, like how the PM Modi and Vladimir Putin's Instagram chats were leaked, revealing inappropriate and explicit text messages being passed between the duo about the Prime minister of Italy Giorgia Meloni.

The day started off with a powerful speech delivered by United Kingdom during the general speakers list, along with a few astute pointers provided by both the delegate of Bangladesh and the Russian federation. The committee then proceeded into formal debate where there were an array of different moderated caucus topics raised ,among which the socio-economic factors affecting the digital gender gap and the causes widening the digital gender divide were raised. The delegates of Yemen ,among others also raised insightful pointers on stereotypical norms preventing us from moving forward. A crisis was introduced where Elon musk and Mark Zuckerberg were found in cahoots demeaning women online. The delegates had to think on their feet, and find ways to condemn this action, and think about the preventative measure that their particular countries could take.
